Real-Time/Batch Eligibility and Benefit Verification

Value Behind Real-Time/Batch Eligibility Verification

Eligibility Verification can be a major burden and challenge to your organization without the right solution behind it. GHN-Online's automated Eligibility Verification streamlines the entire process by eliminating long phone calls for verification and the need to wade through web sites and pages of payer information. Most importantly, the time-saving tool is immediate, within seconds, enabling you to perform eligibility verification in "real-time", thus reducing rejections at the payer level.

Advanced Features

- Batch eligibility available by utilizing standard HIPAA-approved 270/271 transactions
- Standard look up screen, conforming all payer details to a single, comprehensive view
- Eligibility and benefits information is stored, making it available through the revenue cycle process

Significant Benefits

- Real-time and batch submission; faster than traditional manual eligibility approval process.
- Flexibility in payer requirements for searches and audit trail on patient inquiries.
- Detailed coverage information on patient inquiries.
- Real-time responses are 10 seconds or less.
- Payer maintenance schedule for eligibility down times.
- Payer status screen for payer activity and transmission issues.
- Automated update when a payer is unable to respond.
- Batches of patient verification requests can be sent ahead of time so responses are ready to take appropriate action prior to the procedure being performed.
- Bi-directional, seamless integration to scheduling software streamlines billing process.
- Improved patient service.
- Risk of rejected claims reduced prior to delivering services.

What our clients are saying...

"The hassle and stress behind performing eligibility checks is no longer there. Our staff can refocus their attention on primary responsibilities. Eligibility checking is far more accurate and denial risk has been significantly lowered."
